CIVIC CLUB

Meeting of Club Monday Evening
—Rummage Sale and Tag Day
Planned For November Sixth—Need of Funds.

The Civic Club of Wauseon held a meeting at the Library last Monday evening. There were some cases in pressing need of help and to meet them the club exhausted the last of their available funds.

The Relief Department of the Club works quietly and without publicity but nevertheless they have been working as effectively as their means will allow. It may be no surprise to some citizens of Wauseon to know that there are many worthy cases where a little help will do a great deal of good. These are cases that affect people, especially children, in families that are by no means objects of charity and who are not disposed to make their real needs known.

There are children who lack necessary articles of clothing which parents in straitened circumstances find themselves unable to provide. There are women who have to support themselves and their children who find themselves unable to make their income cover food and shelter for their families and also shoes and clothing for themselves. Hardest of all these occasional cases where the breadwinner is entirely incapacitated for work when medical treatment, for which there is no money in the family purse, would restore the health and enable the husband and father to return to the work by which he can support and care for his home and children. It is in cases of this character that the Relief Committee of the Civic Club have been caring for; of course in a town of the size of Wauseon there are not many such cases but there have been enough of them to exhaust all the funds available for this purpose and the club is facing a number of such cases of real need and no funds to meet the need.

In the emergency the club have decided to hold a Rummage Sale and also a Tag Day on Saturday November 6th.

The Rummage Sale will be held in the City Hall and Mrs. Alonzo Marks, Mrs. W. W. Toussaint and Mrs. Louella Ham have been appointed as the committee in charge of this work. Articles of clothing, any thing that can be used in a home to make it comfortable, things that have hung in closets or attic and counted in the "discard" should be hunted up and contributed to the Civic Club Rummage Sale. There will be nothing wasted and clothing that may be left after the sale will be held for use as it may be needed.

On the same day, Saturday November 6th, tags will be sold on the streets of Wauseon and the funds so obtained will be used for the relief work of the Club.

Mrs. R. H. Boy and Mrs. C. E. Kernan were appointed as the committee on Tag Day and they have secured the services of the following Cannon Fire Girls who will sell tags for the Civic Club on the day mentioned: Audrey Reed, Florence Richardson, Olive Schlatter, Margaret Howard, Alice Kiehl, Christine Outcalt, Dorothy Waldron, Louise Hancock, Helen Fink, Fern Djabrow, Rosea Crow, Esther Rappert, Mae Miles, Rose Walforth, Grace Gould, Catherine Sharpe, Pauline Allion.

Health and Happiness Depend Upon Your Liver.

That sluggish liver with its sluggish flow of bile in what makes the world look so dark at times. Dr. King's New Life Pills go straight to the root of the difficulty by waking up the action of the liver and increasing the bile.

G. A. R. MEMORIAL SERVICE

A very appropriate and impressive Memorial Service was held in G. A. R. Hall last Sunday afternoon at two p. m. by the Comrades of Leisure Post No. 35 G. A. R. commemorating the Comrades and Associate members that have passed away and have answered the last Roll Call, within the past year. This being the first observance of this kind that the Post has inaugurated here in Wauseon. I wish to say that this service was appropriate and very impressive in the manner in which the services were conducted. Three of our Comrades and two of the associate members of the Grand Army affiliating with Leisure Post have passed out of this life into the unknown, since May 30th, 1915, and to commemorate these three services was held. The beautiful tribute paid to each respectively by the speakers assigned for this service, was of such a nature and combined with the solemn eulogy, that each speaker observed made each impressive and interesting to all the audience present. The beautiful songs rendered so effectively by the male quartette composed of Geo. Gorsuch, Clyde Wager, Haddell Gray and Gambol, were appreciated and enjoyed by the audience for which the G. A. R. return their sincere thanks and to the speakers a full measure is given. The co-operation of the above made this service. One long to be remembered and the lesson taught if we should all apply it and live thereby would vastly improve our citizenship of which we should be proud.

AGRICULTURAL DAY

November Twelfth Designated As Agricultural Day in Ohio By Governor Willis—Will Be Observed By The Boosters Club of Wauseon—Banquet To The Agriculturists of The County.

The Committee of the Wauseon Boosters Club to whom has been assigned the task of providing for the presentation of the Agricultural Improvement Work in Fulton county to the leading agriculturists and business men of the county, met last Monday night for the purpose of perfecting their plans. Mr. Charles Allen, Chairman of the Agricultural Improvement Committee of the Toledo Commerce Club met with them and gave many valuable suggestions.

The Wauseon Committee had decided upon a banquet to which representative farmers and business men from every township and village in the county will be invited. The banquet will be held by the ladies of the Boosters Club whose members will be the hosts of those who come at their invitation. Mr. Charles Allen, Mr. Bush State Supervisor of Agricultural Improvement and other speakers who are actual workers in this movement will present the matters as to what may be done in the way of Agricultural improvement in Fulton or any other county in Ohio and how it may be done. So an opportunity will be given to take advantage of such helps as the federal government and the State government have provided to better the agricultural and business conditions of the county; if the representative men present shall so decide.

The fact that Governor Willis has designated Friday November 12th as Ohio's Agricultural Day, helped the committee in determining the date of the banquet. It will be a most appropriate way in which to observe the day.

The banquet will be held in the Knights of Pythias Hall and the banquet will be served by the ladies of Wauseon Temple, Pythian Sisters.

TRIBUTE

To The Memory of The Late James E. Cantleberry—Delivered at G. A. R. Memorial Service Sunday October 17th, 1915, by John C. Rorick.

We have met here today for the purpose of giving expression to our appreciation for the good deeds, the kind acts and the patriotic services with which our departed Associates have favored the nation during their allotted time and to express our deep sincere regrets that they associate with us no more.

It becomes my duty and privilege on this solemn occasion to especially pay tribute to the memory of Associate James E. Cantleberry who was born in Wauseon, Ohio, August 12th, 1855, and died at his residence in Wauseon, March 22nd, 1915, thus passing from the happy realities—as well as the gloom and sorrow of a realistic life to what he firmly believed to be a peaceful and happy eternity.

I hardly feel competent on this occasion to select suitable words from our language with which to express the deep sincere feelings of the comrades present regarding the merits of our departed associate, but I am justified by personal knowledge in expressing what I believe to be the sentiment of all present that as a citizen he ranked with those whose life endeavor is worthy of the endorsement of all unprejudiced observers.

As an official servant of the public he discharged every duty in a faithful and efficient manner, with no object in view except to serve the people who placed their interest in his hands to the best of his ability having only the desire to care for their interest as faithfully and earnestly as he would care for his own.

As a patriotic citizen he believed in the union of all of the great states of the sacred republic, to be governed by the combined wisdom of all and for the welfare of all under one great and glorious flag, to be waved by the inspiring zephyrs of freedom on through ages to come.

And by that inspiring appreciation of the advantages of a country, advanced and justly governed as no other country known, he was led by force of intuition to look with faith and admiration upon "The Boys of '61" who left the joy and the duties of happy homes, their relatives, their friends and safety and impelled by patriotism and bravery dressed in uniforms and marched to the front to meet the hardships and the horrors of war and risk their sacred lives to perpetuate that Union and to maintain the majesty of that flag.

All of this was demonstrated when he met the survivors of that noble band in our G. A. R. Hall and united with the Associate Post and took the solemn oath to serve and aid the soldiers who helped to save the Union and their families during his remaining years to the best of his ability—and attendance at our meetings and on all occasions meeting every requirement.

Owing to an out of way shipment by the American Express Company from Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Du Barry" failed to arrive in time for showing at the Princess last Friday night. Manager Caddell takes great pleasure in announcing that Mrs. Leslie Carter will be on exhibition next Friday night October 22nd "Du Barry" and has the assurance of prompt shipment from George Klein's Chicago office.

ANOTHER COMRADE CANNED.

On last Saturday evening at five p. m. the 16th inst. twenty-one comrades and twenty-two ladies of the Relief Corps No. 20 marched over on prospect avenue to the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Buxton, of course Mrs. Buxton was apprised of the coming but Leander was not. He was shaving himself in the kitchen; we marched in and caught him in the act. He knew this company and caught on directly what was going to be done for he himself had participated on like occasions. At any rate he soon collected himself and made a very pleasant host with his wife as receiver an entertainer of his guests. Mr. Buxton has passed his seventy-third anniversary. In the very prime of his life having the best of health, all and went merry as the marriage bell. But this was not to be a wedding but a canning ceremony. Mr. Buxton was seated at his minister, Mr. Ashton being present by arrangement proceeded to do the work which was done with well chosen words and appreciated by all present. Mr. Buxton responded with grateful thanks for this token of respect shown him by his comrades of Leisure Post. Mr. Buxton became a member of Leisure Post by transfer about two years ago and the Comrades are pleased to have him with them. He is always ready to do his part when called upon and in many ways can be depended on in any and all good work. A fine nut supper was served prepared by the ladies and was partaken of with a relish. Such as all ex-soldiers are reported to have a social time was spent in speeches, visiting and narratives by different ones, which was amusing as well as interesting for all. All departed for their homes after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Buxton many more years of happiness.

STATE EXHIBIT

The Wauseon Poultry and Pet Stock Show November 30th To December 4th—Showing Proper and Improper Methods of Caring for Poultry.

Whether you keep just a half dozen hens in a backyard-plant or operate a poultry farm with several thousand chickens, the ideal arrangement that would suit your needs can be found in the exhibit, sent out by the Ohio State University, which will be at the show held by the Poultry and Pet Stock Association at Wauseon, the week of November 30 to December 3.

The models are now being prepared and set up at Columbus, and will be shown contrasting with the average and strikingly improved poultry plants found over the state. The difference between the average egg production in Ohio and the average of the pure bred flocks is one feature of the exhibit that will point out the advantages of pure bred poultry husbandry.

The commercial side of the poultry business is not neglected marketing methods, candling and grading requirements and standards, care of the eggs, and methods of packing and storing are included in the "egg" department of the show. In addition, the requirements for selection of eggs for hatching are given graphically.

Labor-saving devices, proper and improper methods, selection of location, essentials of success in poultry work, income-sidelines, the prevention of poultry diseases and the care of young chicks are a few of the subjects in which, supplemented by leaflets which are distributed by the instructors in charge.

Harry Merrill who is secretary of the show, is well satisfied with the preliminary arrangements. He expects the best show ever held in Wauseon, and is enthusiastic over the interest being shown. The show is held the week of November 30 to December 4.

WEATHER FORECAST

Issued by U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C. For the week beginning Wednesday October 20, 1915.

For Ohio Valley and Tennessee: Fair weather Wednesday and Thursday will be followed by rain about Friday and by generally fair weather during the remainder of the week. Temperatures will be somewhat above the seasonal average during the greater part of the week.

For the Region of the Great Lakes: There will be rain Wednesday over the northern portion of the upper Lake district, extending Wednesday night and Thursday throughout the Lake region generally; after Thursday the weather will be generally fair with somewhat lower temperatures for a day or two.

BOOSTER'S MEETING.

There will be a meeting of The Wauseon Booster's Club next Monday evening at T. & L. Hall. Every member should be present and every man in Wauseon who wants to be listed as a booster to help make a better Wauseon and a better county, healthier, happier and more prosperous, should also be present. The Booster's Club is simply a means of getting together for co-operative work. Every one within a radius of seven and one half miles of Wauseon is eligible to membership.

Every Home Needs a Faithful Cough and Cold Remedy.

When seasons change and colds appear—when you first detect a cold after sitting next to one who has sneezed, then it is that a tried and tested remedy should be faithfully used. "I never wrote a testimonial before but, I know positively that for myself and family, Dr. King's New Discovery is the best cough remedy we ever used and we have tried them all." 50c and $1.00.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The council met in regular session last Monday evening with president C. H. Jordan in the chair. Minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved and the councilmen gave their attention to routine of business. Parties who had failed to comply with the notification to build sidewalks were reported and the matter of taking the necessary legal steps to compel the building of such walks was taken up.

Bad places in sidewalks that should be fixed before the bad weather of winter sets in were also discussed and clerk was instructed to notify owners of property where such places exist, to repair walks.

At the suggestion of the City Solicitor C. O. Castle was instructed to place bench marks upon the new sewer map which he is now making in order that a permanent record of such marks may be made. Communication from the Wabash Railroad Company in regard to lighting costs at the Fulton street crossing of said railroad was presented to the council the matter was referred back to the clerk with instructions to answer the communication.

A SERIOUS LARK

Wauseon Young Men Experiences a Sure Enough Hazing Without Going To College For It—The Succeeding Chapters of The Story Left To The Courts.

Last Thursday night Ray Ames was the victim of what appears on the surface as boys bit of fun or practical joke carried just a few notches farther than was originally intended. We are not in possession of information that justifies us in going into the merits of the case but the facts so far we have been able to ascertain them are as follows:

Ray Ames rode his wheel to Tedrow last Thursday evening for the purpose of collecting some messenger fees due him from the Tedrow Mutual Telephone Office. Mr. Ames staid until a late hour visiting with the operators in the exchange, finally Tedrow boy came to the door of the office and said that in passing he had noticed a wheel fastened up on a telephone pole nearby and thinking that a trick had been played by someone and that the party to whom the wheel belonged might be searching for the wheel he had stopped to inform the operators at the exchange where it might be found; he was asked to come in and introduced to Ray Ames who went out with him to identify the wheel.

As they came to the pole on which the wheel was supposed to be hung both boys were grabbed by two fellows each. The Tedrow boy was thrown to the ground and held down Ames's clothes were torn from him and a tar was applied to his person. As soon as Ames could free himself from his tormentors and make himself presentable he returned to the telephone office and reported the affair to the Sheriff. The Sheriff succeeded in apprehending six young men who were suspected of having participated in the affair and they were arraigned before Justice L. H. Deyo, two of the boys were remanded to the juvenile court because of the fact that they were less than eighteen years of age; the other four pled not guilty to the charge of assault and Thursday of this week was set for the time of hearing. All were released on bail. The succeeding chapters of the story of this "One Night's fun" in which Ray Ames failed to find any fun will probably be worked out by the courts. We can only hope that it will come out all right in the last chapter.

HANG THAT COLLAR

Hell knoweth no furies like a saw-edged collar. It spoils the day for every one—yourself and your associates. It annoys; it irritates; it almost drives you crazy. It makes the most mild and agreeable of men a temporary demon.

The collars we launder are never saw-edged. No chemicals are used, and our help has been specially trained to turn the collar so that it won't crack. This care and precision is noticeable throughout our entire establishment. Each piece is handled as work itself—each in its own particular way. That's the way the ENTERPRISE STEAM LAUNDRY, has made good.

We're careful. We're thorough. Our prices are reasonable—we aim to be courteous, and we appreciate your business. Give us a trial. You will never permit your laundry to be sent elsewhere.
